CYCLING CRAZE BRINGS MORE BIKE ACCIDENTS

Bicycles in the United States numbered 75 million this year, a phenomenal increase of 50 million bikes over 10 years ago. Sales of two-wheelers are keeping pace with sales of new cars, prodded by the popularity of the exotic 10-speed bike. The figure reinforces cycle enthusiasts' contention that theirs is becoming the fastest growing sport and exercise form in the United States. It is also becoming a solution to the social problems of pollution and automobile congestion on the roads and streets.

Bicycle sales are increasing, but unfortunately, the tremendous growth in the use of the bicycle has been accompanied by a similar increase in biking accidents and fatalities, says the Insurance Information Institute.

In Maine alone last year, bike accidents resulted in 215 personal injuries and five deaths, according to the Bureau of Traffic Records.

Statistics show that in most bicycle accidents the cyclist violates traffic law. This inattention or failure to yield the right-of-way accounts for the largest number of mishaps, according to the Institute. In more than one-third of bike accidents, a motor vehicle driver violates a traffic rule or regulation.

Fatal bicycling accidents generally are the more severe type, and most accidents occur on city streets. more than 50% of the fatalities and a large percentage of the serious injuries occur in rural areas.

The Institute suggests that bike riders should obey all the traffic laws, familiarize themselves with the precautions of bicycling, and at the same time, points out that motorists should watch out for bike riders.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

A joint meeting of the Water District Trustees and the Board of Selectmen was held Wednesday night to determine if the two should combine to hire one superintendent to have the responsibility of both water and sewage.

It was agreed that this would be desirable as neither the District not the town could offer full time employment to supervise their operations.

Considerable interest is being generated to expand this thought even further to include the highway department. There has to be close coordination between the highway department, water and sewage, for equipment use. It may develop that for one person to have all these departments would be in the best interest of all.

There will be another meeting next week to explore all aspects of the position further.

The sewage construction project is moving along rapidly. There is considerable activity at the plant site, with pipe laying crews working at various locations.

S. A. D. 44 BOARD MEETS IN REGULAR SESSION

The board of directors of Maine School Administrative District #44 held a regular meeting in the Lecture Hall at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening of this week.

Speaking on behalf of Dan Hannon of the Telstar faculty, Milton Wright, And-Ox Uniserve representative, requested that the offer of the board with regard to Mr. Hannon's current contract be reconsidered. Mr. Wright further requested that any offer be based on the master's scale. The board voted to deny the requested action.

The board granted the request of Francis Berry that permission be given to grade and develop an area to be utilized as a skating rink at Crescent Park School. The permission is subject to a provision that S. A. D. #44 will not be subject to any liability with regard to the project.

The superintendent of schools, Basil Kinney, and Brian Flynn, Telstar principal, were directed by the board to meet with Mrs. Helen Berry of the Telstar faculty to discuss how her continued services might be utilized to benefit those students at Telstar interested in drama.

CYCLING CRAZE BRINGS MORE BIKE ACCIDENTS

Bicycles in the United States numbered 75 million this year, a phenomenal increase of 50 million bikes over 10 years ago. Sales of two-wheelers are keeping pace with sales of new cars, prodded by the popularity of the exotic 10-speed model. The figure reinforces cycle enthusiasts' contention that theirs is the fastest growing sport and exercise form in the United States. It is also becoming a solution to the social problems of pollution and automobile congestion on the roads and streets.

Bicycle sales are increasing, but unfortunately, the tremendous growth in the use of the bicycle has been accompanied by a similar increase in biking accidents and fatalities, says the Insurance Information Institute.

In Maine alone last year, bike accidents resulted in 215 personal injuries and five deaths, according to the Bureau of Traffic Records. Statistics show that in most bicycle accidents the cyclist violates traffic law. This inattention or failure to yield the right-of-way accounts for the largest number of mishaps according to the Institute. In more than one-third of bike accidents, the motor vehicle driver violates some traffic rule or regulation.

Fatal bicycling accidents generally are the more severe type. Although most accidents occur on city streets, more than 50% of the fatalities and a large percentage of the serious injuries occur in rural areas.

The Institute suggests that bike riders should obey all the traffic laws, familiarize themselves with safety precautions of bicycling, and at the same time, points out that motorists should watch out for bike riders.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

A joint meeting of the Water District Trustees and the Board of Selectmen was held Wednesday night to determine if the two should combine to hire one superintendent to have the responsibility of both water and sewage.

It was agreed that this would be desirable as neither the District not the town could offer full time employment to supervise their operations.

Considerable interest is being generated to expand this thought even further to include the highway department. There has to be close coordination between the highway department, water and sewage, for equipment use. It may develop that for one person to have all these departments would be in the best interest of all.

There will be another meeting next week to explore all aspects of the position further.

The sewage construction project is moving along rapidly. There is considerable activity at the plant site, with pipe laying crews working at various locations.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS MEET

continuing the practice of the municipality making application.

The directors accepted the resignation of William Cousins, Bethel, as a member of the S. A. D. 44 board, effective Aug. 31, 1972. The superintendent will notify the Bethel town officials of the vacancy existing as of that date, so they may make an interim appointment valid until the next annual town meeting. Current Maine statute does not permit a member of the board, or spouse, to be a full-time teacher in that district. Mrs. Cousins will teach in the Locke Mills Elementary School this fall.

Miss Margaret Tibbetts, Bethel, was selected by the board to serve as its second representative to the Vocational System, a proposed program among area school units. M. Parker Allen, Woodstock, was named to the panel last spring. This program has indicated that it will seek to utilize the Raymond C. Foster School in Newry in its offerings.

As it falls on Labor Day, the board voted to cancel its first meeting in September.

Board members absent Monday evening were: George Chase, Eddie Snyder, chairman, Andover; Clarence Remington, Bethel; Raymond W Seames, Greenwood; Paul Wight, Newry.

Staff members present at the meeting were: Brian Flynn, Telstar principal; Dr. H. William Yeo, Telstar assistant principal; Mrs. Priscilla Hatch, Theodore Davis, Mrs. Caroline Gould, Mrs. Margaret Cousins, Dan Hannon, and Mrs. Pauline Applin. Others present were: Mike Davis, T. R. H. S. Student Council, ex-officio representative to the board; Milton Wright, AndOx Universe representative, Maine Teachers Association.

The next regular board meeting will be held on Monday evening, Sept. 18.

Mrs Clarence Kimball, Kilborn Street, is a patient at Rumford Community Hospital.

MORRILL ESTATE NOW OCCUPIED BY RHODE ISLAND FAMILY

The Myron Morrill estate on the Flat Road, in West Bethel, is now happily occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Walsh of Providence, R. I., and their 16-year-old daughter, Karissa Lynne.

Mr. Walsh graduated from Brandeis University before serving as a Guided Missile Launch Officer at Dow Air Force Base in Bangor. Upon separation from the Air Force, he was employed as assistant editor of a weekly newspaper in Connecticut.

A job with General Electric Company as a specialist in Advertising and Sales Promotion led him to Providence, where he subsequently enrolled at Rhode Island School of Design in the Division of Architecture. Mr. Walsh studied industrial design, architecture, furniture design, and photography while at RISD and received a BFA degree in 1971. During the past year, he has been working toward an advanced degree from RISD while restoring and enlarging a 10-room house near historic Newport, R. I. In addition to being chief carpenter, he designed the project and acted as contractor.

Mr. Walsh hopes that one or more of his skills will be of use to the community.

Mrs. Walsh is the former Maureen Frances Chamberlin of Woonsocket, R. I. She met her husband while attending Rhode Island College.

The Walshes sing and play traditional folk music and enjoy square dancing and canoeing for recreation.

10,000 MAINE CHILDREN TO BE TESTED/TREATED FOR LEAD POISON IN NEXT YEAR

Approximately 10,000 children ages one-six, mostly of low-income families, will be tested and treated for lead poisoning during the next year. The Maine Bureau of Health has just begun a statewide lead screening survey, under the direction of Susan Ringer.

Blood samples will be obtained by pricking a finger and will be analyzed by the Public Health Laboratory. Maine Department of Health and Welfare Children found to have high levels will be referred for retesting if necessary they will receive medical treatment. Efforts will also be made to identify and eliminate sources of lead contamination.

Financed in part by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, the $30,000 project will determine whether there is a significant amount of lead poisoning in Maine.

Lead poisoning is primarily a child hood disease. It can result from ingested paint chips found in deteriorating housing, from lead plumbing (outlawed in current installations), from imported dinnerware containing dangerous amounts of lead, and from decorative glazed pottery in which acidic liquids are stored.

Small children have a tendency to put things in their mouths and to chew on nonfood items, such as cribs, toys, and paint chips. Miss Ringer warns that these children are an especially high risk group. Parents are urged to supervise their children closely to prevent their eating paint or plaster, and to remove hazardous, lead paint containing items from their children's reach.

Lead based paint hasn't been readily available for interior surfaces use since the 1940's. However, walls, window sills and ceilings of older homes, especially those which have not been painted for many years, may contain the dangerous paint.

Ingested lead builds up in the body. The body can dispose of small amounts naturally, but if a child eats paint chips regularly over a period of several months, toxic levels may be reached.

Lead poisoning can lead to mental retardation, blindness, kidney disease, and emotional and learning problems. In more advanced cases, it can result in death.

Symptoms of lead poisoning may easily be mistaken for other illnesses, for example: loss of appetite, irritability, stomach cramps, and lack of coordination. Any child with these symptoms should be seen by a physician at once.

MDOT CREWS COMPLETE RAGWEED CONTROL PROGRAM ON MAINE ROADSIDES

Maine motorists who are sensitive to ragweed pollen will be interested to learn that Maine Department of Transportation maintenance crews are just completing the seasonal spraying of concentrations of ragweed along the shoulders of more than 2000 miles of Maine highways.

This is the eighth season for the ragweed control program said Theodore Stone, MDOT landscape architect. "Since ragweed grows only in open ground, where there is a lack of competition from other plants, our gravel shoulders provide a good opportunity for it to develop. The air turbulence created by passing traffic keeps the ragweed pollen moving and quantities of it must enter the cars through open windows and air vents."

For control of ragweed the maintenance crews use regular spray equipment and spray with 2,4-D at a mixing rate of 2, 4 D to 100 gallons of water. The herbicide is selective and does not destroy grass. The crews begin applying the chemical before the plant begins producing pollen and yet is late enough for the herbicide to be effective. Last year 2100 miles of roadsides were sprayed, and the cost of the material was about a dollar per roadside mile.

A University of Michigan experiment has found that ragweed pollen is relatively heavy so that it falls to the ground not far downwind from the plant that produces it. This indicates that the bulk of the ragweed pollen taken in by automobiles originates along the roadside.

"Since ragweed pollen is one of the chief sources of discomfort this time of year for those who suffer from hay fever or asthma," said Stone, "we feel that a program of control along roadsides is worthwhile."

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey [illegible] were in town over the week end.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler has returned home from Stephens Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Abbott, South Portland, visited Mr. and Mrs. Gus Smith Tuesday afternoon.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

August 15, 1972

To the Editor:

Let me take this opportunity to thank Bethel Citizen for the fine coverage which you gave me on my walk through your area. News reports of the walk brought to the attention of the people the opportunity to express their views on the vital issues which concern us. I was especially pleased by the warm hospitality of those who offered food, aid, shelter, and comfort. This walk has proven that Maine people are compassionate, understanding, and concerned about the lack of equity in our tax structure, they are concerned about the lack of jobs, and they are concerned about the administration of our social service programs. As a result of the walk I have gained a much greater insight into the problems and promise of Maine.

I'd like to especially thank my host for the evening I spent in Bethel as well as John Grover for his gracious hospitality at the Bethel Spa.

I am on the last leg of my 400 mile walk through the Second District of Maine. I have had numerous requests to walk north from Houlton to Fort Kent, and am in the process of evaluating such an extension of 150 miles. Mr. Cohen announced on Aug. 21 that he will hike to Fort Kent.)

At some point I shall stop walking, but my desire to bring politics back to the people, to include those who have been for so long excluded from the governmental processes, will continue throughout my campaign and hopefully into the Congress.

Once again, I am grateful to all the people who shared their homes, their ideas, and their time with me.

Sincerely,
William D. Cohen

STATE SAFETY CONFERENCE TO BE HELD SEPT. 21-22 AT KENNEBUNKPORT

The Maine State Safety Conference will be held on Sept. 21 and 22 at the Shawmut Inn in Kennebunkport. That is the word from Howell G. Cutter, general coordinator for the most successful safety conference in Maine.

The Conference, now in its 45th year, is the oldest of its kind in the State. Historically, public and government safety officials from throughout New England get together for two days of concentrated exchange of ideas. The Conference has been the focal point for the dissimination of new legislation, such as the Highway Act of 1966, and the crucial Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970.

This year's conference will feature top safety speakers from Washington, and special sessions designed to fit the needs of Maine's varied industries.

Officials expect up to 500 safety experts to attend the September conclave.

your week ahead
BY DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period August 27 - September 3, 1972

ARIES Mar. 21 - Apr. 19
Most members of your sign will find this to be an active week. A subtle chain of events will take you down memory lane. In other words, you'll do many things that you've done before.

TAURUS Apr. 20 - May 20
In the general scheme of things, there should be an improvement in most departments of your life. Ironically, you could easily find yourself smothered in a cloud of unwarranted gloom.

GEMINI May 21 - June 20
Don't put off paying a debt; meeting an obligation or being on time. According to stellar patterns, neglecting a commitment, at this time, could trigger long term reversals.

MOONCHILD June 21 - July 22
Avoid serious discussions with the opposite sex. Those under your sign unattached could receive overtures that lead to life long attachments. So, be careful of what you promise or commit.

LEO July 23 - Aug. 22
This cosmic cycle brings boredom of daily and routine tasks . . . which is another way of saying that you are accident prone. Keep "locked on" to what you are doing; resist cutting corners.

VIRGO Aug. 23 - Sept. 21
It seems as though you will be making a decision that concerns an associate. The point? Don't attempt to cover up or become involved in an intrigue.

LIBRA Sept. 23 - Oct. 22
There's been no repeal, as far as the law of average is concerned. Unless your attitude toward a member of the opposite sex changes . . . there's trouble ahead!

SCORPIO Oct. 23 - Nov. 21
There's something questionable about the motives of an associate. It seems as though you're relying on an unproductive "friend" for help. Stellar patterns suggest that you face problems as a "loner" this week.

SAGITTARIUS Nov. 23 - Dec. 21
This cosmic cycle should be the forerunner of a new project. So, tie up loose ends; avoid becoming involved in someone else's commitments. Prepare to throw your efforts into a new venture.

CAPRICORN Dec. 23 - Jan. 19
Much of what you hear during the present cosmic, will be part truth and part fiction. Many under your sign will be taking every wrong direction. The point? Postpone major decisions.

AQUARIUS Jan. 20 - Feb. 18
Some Aquarians must seek rest and proper diet. Otherwise, a chronic illness will flare up. Also, disfavor with persons in authority or a superior is indicated.

PISCES Feb. 19 - Mar. 20
Hold it! According to prevailing aspects - you are letting your imagination work against a member of the opposite sex. It's possible that a devious associate is feeding you half-truths and rumors.

The dusk now creeps over the hills earlier and autumn walks the other side. August is hurrying on toward September and we wonder where the summer has gone. Did we have one? I suppose we did for crickets sing after dark, the fireflies flash, or glow, everything outside is green which IS a summer's show.

"... Mail's moving faster. For a lot of reasons. But I'd say the reason behind it all is Zip Code!..."
Sherry Gladney, Postal Worker, Chicago, Ill.

How to mail a letter today when you want it delivered tomorrow.

Out of town.

Be sure to use Air Mail. And remember to include a Zip Code in the address.

Mail before 4:00 p.m. from any specially marked Air Mail box. Or by 5:00 p.m. at your Main Post Office.

You'll get next-day delivery to major cities within 600 miles almost all the time. And, second-day delivery anywhere in the country.

In your town.

Again, be sure to include a Zip Code in the address. Mail by the last pickup before 5:00 p.m. That's it.

You'll get next-day delivery in your town and the area around it, most every time you mail.

These Zip Code tips can help you.

If you don't know a Zip Code, just look in the handy Zip Code Section of your phone book. Or call your local Post Office.

Always put your Zip Code in your return address. So people can copy it down.

People really depend on the mail, and the mail depends on Zip Code. Un-Zipped letters can slow down all the mail. So put a Zip Code on everything you mail.

Help us help you. Use Zip Code.

I REMEMBER

BY THE OLD TIMER

From Mrs. Francis L. Wagner, Springville, Ia.: I remember growing up on a small, South Dakota farm and many of its delightful experiences. I remember: Barn-swallows nesting in the rafters; chasing butterflies through the sweet-clover; picking Mayflowers after the rain; herding cattle on a hot summer day; the smell of the new hay on a dewey summer night; picnics in the pasture and wading in the slough; bringing lunch to Dad; the sound of man and horses working as a team; sunflowers and roses beside the road; meadowlarks singing in the distance; dandelions and daisies where the South-forty used to be; hay-stacks dotting the plains; feeding the men on "threshing day"; running barefooted through the stubblefield; climbing a snow-bank as high as the shed; hiking through the shelter-belt; thistles along the fence-line; Mamma's warm, fragrant kitchen on bread-baking days. These are just some of the beautiful things I remember.

CONSUMERS' CORNER

Glass Doors

Every year, about 250,000 Americans are injured in accidents involving storm doors, patio doors, shower enclosures and other installations where glass is used. The U.S. Public Health Service says that most of the accidents occur around the home and that at least half the victims are under 15 years old. Sometimes the victims walk through the glass, mistaking it for open space; other times they slip and fall through the glass. According to 1970 estimates 141 persons were killed in glass door accidents every year and 7000 are hospitalized.

Almost always, the glass involved in these accidents is ordinary annealed glass, the non-safety type that breaks into sharp pieces upon impact. Less dangerous types of glass are available, including tempered glass, laminated glass, wire-mesh glass, and various types of plastics, but unfortunately these aren't always used in houses, commercial and public buildings.

Tempered glass in particular is three to five times stronger than ordinary glass and only slightly more expensive. It may be cheaper in the long run than ordinary glass because it doesn't break and need to be replaced as often. When it does break, tempered glass forms relatively harmless pieces resembling rock salt.

THIS WORLD OF OURS

Each year Americans jettison 30 million tons of paper, 26 billion bottles, 48 billion tin and aluminum cans, and more than seven million junked cars. Now is the time for us to get serious about recycling.

There was an especially large turn-out at church services Saturday evening.

A church has proposed a bill to the Congress prohibiting posters preaching the blood of Christ. There is a danger to our country creeping in as silently as fog. We could become immersed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Taylor, Nashua, N. H., came on a motorcycle recently to visit her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Zanelli and her son, Randy, of Florida, arrived Monday for a vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Williamson and family are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kovacs are spending their annual vacation in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tuomonin visited several friends in town as they passed through on their honeymoon trip. Charlie says hello to those he missed. They have built a home on the Cape where he has work in the construction business.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I will no longer be responsible for any monetary charges in connection with my wife, Linda Gordon.
